ANNOUNCEMENT

The Commission is pleased to announce that W.M. Duggan who was the Registrar of the Commission and is more recently of A.E. Ames & Co. Limited has been appointed Associate Director.

Statement of Commission Policy

RE DEALER SUB-UNDERWRITINGS

Where the plan of distribution set out in a prospectus discloses that the underwriter may sell to either an investment dealer or broker-dealer as principal (hereinafter called "registrant") who may in turn distribute these securities to the public providing the following conditions are complied with:

- (1) The registrant must acquire the securities for its own account as principal and distribute the securities to the public as principal in accordance with the conditions disclosed under the heading "Plan of Distribution" in the prospectus.
- (2) The offering price to the public shall not be greater than that disclosed in the prospectus.
- (3) Notice of intention to engage in primary distribution to the public as principals must be filed with the Commission by the registrant.

Statement of Commission Policy

DUAL REGISTRATION UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT:

The following guidelines are published for the benefit of persons or companies contemplating application for or participation in a second class of registration.

- (1) Individuals registered as salesmen cannot directly hold any other class of registration nor can they act as an officer or director of a corporate registrant.
- (2) Subject to Commission policy regarding recognition, a person or company may obtain registration as a broker, a broker-dealer, or an investment dealer, or any combination of these three classes. For this purpose affiliated companies will be viewed as the same company.
- (3) Persons or companies registered or permitted to trade as a broker, a broker-dealer, or an investment dealer or as an underwriter may not directly or indirectly hold separate registration as either a securities adviser or investment counsel.

- (4) Persons or companies registered or permitted to trade as a broker-dealer, investment dealer, investment counsel or securities adviser may not hold registration as an underwriter.
- (5) Where an application for registration, other than as a salesman, discloses that any individual is an "associate" of another individual registered, permitted to trade, or who is a principal shareholder of an existing registrant the second registration will not be granted until the Director is satisfied that the "associate" is a principal who will be acting independently of his or her associate. The word "associate" as defined in the Act includes husband, wife and children living at home.
- (6) This policy is to come into force upon May 6th, 1968. The Director is to notify all registrants who may be affected that their current registration will not be renewed excepting under extraordinary circumstances, details of which must accompany the application for renewal.

IN THE MATTER OF THE SECURITIES ACT

AND

IN THE MATTER OF SIGMA SECURITIES LIMITED, IRWIN ALAN FIDLER AND
LOUIS PANCER

Hearings: February 21st and April 5th, 1967

Present: J. McCallum, Q.C. - Counsel to Sigma
Securities Limited

J. Gilbert - Counsel to I.A. Fidler

S.J. Antonette - Staff Counsel

Sigma Securities Limited made application for registration as what is known as an underwriter under The Securities Act, 1966. Although the application was submitted under the previous Act in a somewhat different form, the intent is that Sigma Securities Limited should be registered to trade as an underwriter. The officers and directors of Sigma are Mr. Fidler and his nominees.

In the past Mr. Fidler has placed underwritings through another corporate vehicle he controls, Parc Trading Limited. This Company not only acted as an underwriter but maintained trading accounts. Mr. Fidler was registered as a securities salesman from December 8th, 1953, to November 13th, 1959. On the latter date he terminated his employment. His more recent activities were touched upon by Mr. Justice Kelly in his report on the investigation into trading in the shares of Windfall Oils and Mines Limited. He referred to the conduct of Mr. Fidler in a footnote found on page 20 of his report. I have had the benefit of the transcripts of the evidence given by Mr. Fidler before his Lordship as the Royal Commissioner.

In addition to his activities as an underwriter, Mr. Fidler has been active as a mining executive. He is or has been, the general manager of Mercury Chipman Company Limited, general manager of Barima Minerals Limited, president and managing director of United Porcupine Mines Limited, general manager of Dynacore Explorations Limited, general manager of Bankfield Consolidated Mines Limited and general manager of Gulf Lead Mines Limited, among others. He explained that the remuneration he received from these companies depended on their activity. While not professing to be absolutely accurate, Mr. Fidler named some six public companies from which he is drawing or had drawn salaries in varying amounts of $250, $500 up to $800 per month. In other instances, the companies may be charged from between $100 to $400 per month for the use of his offices at 302 Bay Street, Toronto.

The specific episode which gives rise to my concern is that pinpointed by Mr. Justice Kelly. On July 30, 1964, during the last frenzy of market activity before the Windfall assays were released, acting on the rumour that the assays demonstrated values, Mr. Fidler gave instructions to purchase Windfall shares to a registered salesman, Neville Brandt O'Sullivan. The Windfall shares were then trading at their highest levels. Mr. O'Sullivan purchased some 18,300 shares at these prices which he earmarked for the personal account of Mr. Fidler. Subsequently, after the negative assays had been announced and the price of Windfall dropped, these acquisitions were allocated as follows:

10,000 shares to Mercury Chipman
Company Limited,

3,000 shares - Barima Minerals Limited,

1,000 shares to Duvex Oil and Mines
Limited,

3,000 shares to Basalt Bay Mines
Limited,

1,000 shares to New Goldvue Mines
Limited,

and 300 shares to Parc Trading
Limited.

In Lymburn v Mayland (1932) A.C. 318, the Privy Council stated that the purpose of registration of licensing is to ensure that those engaging in the business are honest and of good reputation, thereby preventing fraud. Subsection 1 of section 7 of The Securities Act, 1966, Statutes of Ontario, 1966, chapter 142, provides, as did its predecessor, that the Director shall grant registration where in the opinion of the Director the applicant is suitable for registration and the proposed registration is not objectionable. I am unable to form the conclusion that Sigma Securities Limited is suitable for registration as an underwriter and the application will therefore be refused.

It is fair to characterize Mr. Fidler as a promoter in the strict English legal meaning of that word. He is also a promoter in the lay sense presently used since, as well as dealing in stock, he plays an active and important part in the management of a number of public companies. Indeed, his role was so dominant that he had authority to speculate with the funds of at least some of the companies in which he had an interest. There was substantial effort directed to explaining the innocent nature of Mr. Fidler's purchases of Windfall and the allocation of the losses to the public companies, Mercury Chipman and Barima, which assumed the losses as to 13,000 shares. Mr. Fidler's Parc Trading assumed the loss as to 300 shares. It is a fair inference from the manner in which this trading was recorded by Mr. O'Sullivan that Mr. O'Sullivan's mistake in recording the purchase of the 18,300 Windfall shares for certain personal accounts might never have been rectified had the rumoured Windfall assay results been confirmed.

Even ignoring what might be viewed as the sinister implications raised by these facts, the question remains as to why a mining or oil company would speculate in securities at any time. The delay in issuing these reasons was to afford counsel an opportunity to deal with this point. The argument submitted, supported as it was by some 193 filing statements, failed to answer the question but rather was directed to the proposition that many other mining companies invested surplus funds in other mining companies. Some of these investments might be viewed as speculative in nature. The argument was directed in part, to the steps the Commission has taken during the past three years in an attempt to obligate management to use the funds obtained from the public for the objects set out in the prospectus and not to take market positions or acquire control of other mining companies in which the promoter is interested. However, it has not seriously been argued that the officers of a mining company are permitted to gamble on behalf of that company through such speculation.

Counsel for the applicant pointed out that a filing relating to Mercury-Chipman Company Limited was accepted by the Canadian Stock Exchange on August 24, 1964, which stated, in part, as follows;

"Surplus funds of the company shall be invested in relatively suitable securities, bonds or notes, and in the discretion of management, a portion may also be invested in more speculative securities."

Even if the evidence of Mr. Fidler was accepted, a tip received on the golf course which resulted in the purchase of a volatile stock such as Windfall, can hardly be called "investing" by any definition of the term. I think it idle to conjecture as to what the reader was intended to take from the paragraph quoted above. To suggest that speculating on the basis of a rumour, whatever its source, is within the proper objects of any mining company, it seems to me is rather far-fetched.

Mercury-Chipman and Barima Minerals are public companies. A member of the public who acquires shares in such companies is entitled to assume that management will use the company's assets to further the main objects of the company and in doing so assumes a business risk which ought not to be added to by speculation. It is inconceivable that the shareholder gave any mandate to Mr. Fidler to do other than invest the company's surplus funds until such time as they were required for the normal objects of the company. No matter how benevolent Mr. Fidler's concern might be for these corporate creatures and no matter whether the result was a profit or loss they are neither investment companies nor the personal corporations of their management. As stated previously, the circumstances under which the losses were allocated give rise to the strongest inference concerning the bona fides of Mr. Fidler.

It is suggested that Mr. Fidler's conduct was in accordance with the standards of that part of the financial community within which he operates. If that be so it was not acceptable then and is not acceptable now. The independent shareholder has no knowledge of the risks and losses which Mr. Fidler was asking him to assume. This would have been buried in a balance sheet for approval at the next annual meeting. The Windfall episode provides the clear demonstration of Mr. Fidler's inability to deal fairly and ethically with the public companies with which he was associated. The explanation as to the propriety of charging these public companies with the Windfall trading losses begs the question as to why the explanation should have been necessary in the first place. Accordingly, I am unable to reach the conclusion that any underwriting company with which Mr. Fidler is associated would be suitable for registration. The application of Sigma Securities Limited will be refused.

DATED at Toronto, June 5th, 1967.

H.S. Bray,
Director.

IN THE MATTER OF THE SECURITIES ACT
AND
IN THE MATTER OF SIGMA SECURITIES LIMITED

Hearing held 28th March, 1968

Present: The following members of the Ontario
Securities Commission:-

Mr. J.F. McFarland, Commissioner,
Mr. D.S. Beatty, Commissioner

J.S. McCallum, Q.C., and J.A.
Gilbert for the Company,

A.S. Wakim for the Commission

This is an appeal and review of the decision of the Director, dated June 5th, 1967, refusing Sigma Securities Limited registration as an underwriter. The officers and directors of Sigma Securities are Mr. I.A. Fidler and his nominees.

As the Judgment of the Director makes reference to individuals who are not associated with Sigma Securities Limited or this appeal, the Commission directs that such references be deleted from any publications of the Commission. The Commission finds that Mr. Fidler was not guilty of any misdemeanour.

In his Judgment of June 5th, the Director attaches much significance to the fact that Mr. Fidler is mentioned in the Report of the Royal Commission to investigate the trading in the shares of Windfall Oil and Mines Limited (p. 20). We quote this reference hereunder which is a footnote at the bottom of page 20 as follows:

"The benefits accruing from the effective voting control of companies financed by the public sale of stock was also illustrated in the case of Alan Fidler, transcript pages 4296 to 4315, 4493 to 4509 and Louis Pancer 4509 to 4532."

The learned Commissioner was commenting on the incentives to make the most of the Windfall situation as follows: (see page 19)

"The market conditioning which took place in June and the start of the actual drilling, made the early part of July an opportune time for the distribution to the public of the shares of Windfall Company under option. The incentives to make the most of the situation were threefold:

1. The direct financial advantages to the Windfall Company which would receive the money necessary to explore and examine the Timmins property.
2. The indirect advantage to George and Viola MacMillan due to the control of the Windfall Company having in its treasury, a sum considerably larger than that which was required for the exploration of its properties.

3. The substantial direct financial advantages which accrued to the underwriters and to those associated companies through which the resale of underwritten stock was affected."

The comparative benefits accruing to the treasury and underwriters of Bunker Hill Extension, P C E Exploration, Glen Uranium and Windfall were then set out and at the bottom of the page the footnote quoted above.

The facts, as set out in the Director's judgment, are basically correct and it is not necessary to repeat them here. Suffice it to say that on July 30, 1964, Mr. Fidler, upon being contacted at his golf club, instructed Mr. O'Sullivan, who was a customer's man, in the employ of E.H. Pooler & Co. Limited, to buy 30,000 or 40,000 shares of Windfall without mentioning that he was actually purchasing the same for several of the companies he controlled or managed. Mr. Fidler testified that when he purchased the shares, it was with the intention of allocating them to his several companies. The next morning, on July 31st, before the opening of the Toronto Stock Exchange, Mr. Fidler instructed Mr. O'Sullivan to allocate his stock in varying amounts to his several companies. Mr. O'Sullivan had contacted Mr. Fidler the night previous, that is July 30th, at about ten o'clock and showed him a copy of the Toronto Globe and Mail for the next day, which indicated that the results of the drilling at Windfall were negative.

It was the evidence of Mr. J.C.C. Evans, President and Managing Director of E.H. Pooler & Co. Limited before the Royal Commission on Windfall, that he had written authority from the several companies authorizing Mr. Fidler to trade in stocks in the names of these companies. His evidence in this connection as found on page 4477 of the transcription of the evidence before the Windfall Commission was as follows:

"Q. Did you have anything on file in your firm that authorizes Mr. Fidler to trade for these companies?

A. Yes, we do."

and on page 4478

"Q. Is this by way of resolution of the company or a letter?

A. A letter under seal from the company."

Mr. Evans also stated that it was a common practice for a customer's man, upon receiving an order to buy, to make out a ticket without the buyer's name on it, and then subsequently obtain direction to allocate the stock in the names of the persons or companies for whom it was actually bought.

Mr. Fidler was the only one who knew whether, in the event of a price increase he intended to allocate the stock to his several companies. His evidence is that from the outset he purchased the stock for his companies and not for himself.

The Commission is of the opinion from the evidence adduced, that there was nothing illegal in the practice carried out by Mr. Fidler. He had written authority from the several companies to invest their funds, and it is difficult to understand why he did not furnish the broker with the names of the companies for which he was purchasing the shares (which is what a meticulous and scrupulous person would have done), he nevertheless chose to order a large block of stock and then allocate it to the several companies the next morning.

Such a practice cannot be dismissed with impunity. Any person in a position of trust where he controls the investment of corporate funds should be particularly careful not to permit himself to be placed in a position where there is any possibility of his motives or integrity being questioned. In this instance, there is the inference that had the shares increased appreciably in price, (they did rise about 30 or 40 cents) Mr. Fidler could have taken the profit for himself, and if the shares dropped in price, he could avoid personal loss by allocating the shares to the several companies he controlled or managed.

While, legally, Mr. Fidler cannot be accused of any wrongdoing, his action in buying a highly speculative mining issue on the basis of the reported and unconfirmed results of one drill hole can hardly be regarded as a wise and prudent one. It was a pure gamble with the funds of companies of which he was the general manager or managing director with authority to invest funds out of their treasuries.

It is for this reason there is a question in the minds of the Commission as to the suitability of registering him as an underwriter and the ruling of the Director will not be disturbed.

The public has the right to expect the Commission to insist on high standards and ethics in the conduct and practice of registrants under The Securities Act.

DATED at Toronto, April 26th, 1968.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF THE SECURITIES ACT
AND
IN THE MATTER OF ORD, WALLINGTON & CO. LIMITED

Hearing: April 16th, 1968.

Present: J.W. Gemmell - Counsel to Ord,
Wellington & Co.
Limited,

A.S.Wakim - Staff Counsel.

Ord, Wallington & Co. Limited hold registration and are recognized by the Commission as an investment dealer. They are not a member of the Ontario District of the Investment Dealers' Association of Canada.

Although other issues were raised the present decision is directed to the narrow question as to whether this investment dealer has sufficient free working capital to meet its commitments. The net minimum free working capital required of this class of registrant is $25,000.00.

After reviewing the facts developed as of this date and hearing the evidence adduced and what was said on behalf of the registrant I must accept the tentative conclusions of our auditors, that the company does not have the minimum free capital required and an actual capital deficiency of an as yet undetermined amount exists. The nature and extent of this deficiency will only be established when the audit now in progress is concluded and brought forward to the close of business on April 16th, 1968. In the interests of the clients and the public the registration of Ord, Wallington & Co. Limited was suspended at the close of the hearing on April 16th. In the event this decision is appealed I am prepared to detail my reasons for this immediate suspension.

It should be noted that our audit and other investigations continue. Once the updated audit is completed a hearing will be convened at which all of the facts developed, including those of which the company now has notice, will be reviewed. The purpose of the hearing will be to consider whether the registration should be reinstated, cancelled or whether an additional period of suspension should be imposed.

I was assured by Mr. J.E. Wallington, the company's president, that the shareholders were prepared to interject further capital to insure the public clients against loss. While I have no reason to doubt the good faith with which this assurance was given the problem is that no one was prepared to say with certainty within several tens of thousands of dollars just how much new capital will be required. The audit will supply this information.

While the company will not be permitted to undertake new business during the period of suspension it is permitted to complete the trades for which it has already contracted and to make delivery of securities to its public clients, apart from officers, directors and shareholders of the company. Mr. Wakim has been instructed to furnish the company's counsel with particulars as to matters which he proposes raising at the next hearing so soon as they are available. Mr. Gemmell already is in possession of much of this information.

DATED at Toronto, April 17th, 1968.

H.S. Bray,
Director.

IN THE MATTER OF THE SECURITIES ACT, 1966

AND

IN THE MATTER OF ORD, WALLINGTON & CO. LTD.

Hearing: May 3rd, 1968.

As a result of a trial balance taken as at April 30th, 1968, it became apparent that notwithstanding the interjection of an additional $25,000 in capital last week this company appears to be insolvent to an amount exceeding $100,000.

These facts have been reported to the Commission. The Commission has taken additional steps under section 26 of The Securities Act, 1966, to preserve the existing assets by issuing orders to hold or refrain from dealing with funds or securities to persons and companies known to have on deposit or under their control or for safekeeping funds or securities belonging to the registrant or its clients. I am informed that the Quebec Securities Commission is taking similar action concerning those assets held in that jurisdiction because of the branch office in Montreal.

The Commission has authorized the immediate release of the decision of April 17th, 1968, together with these supplementary facts.

DATED at Toronto, May 3rd, 1968.

H.S. Bray,
Director.

IN THE MATTER OF THE SECURITIES ACT

AND

IN THE MATTER OF COMPANY "A"

Hearing held May 9th, 1968

Present: The following members of the Ontario
Securities Commission:

Mr. H.E. Langford, Chairman
Professor J. Willis, Commissioner

R.A. Cranston, Q.C. for the Company

P. Schrieder for the Commission

This was a hearing held by reason of the failure of the Company to prepare and send to its shareholders a statement of source and application of funds on a comparative basis prior to its annual meeting as required by Section 120(1)(b) and (e) of The Securities Act, 1966. This meeting was held on the 26th day of April this year.

It was admitted by the Company that it was in default as alleged, but its counsel explained that this had occurred by reason of misapprehension by the auditors of the necessity of filing a comparative statement of this type in view of the very slight change which had taken place in the figures in the current year and the previous year.

Bearing in mind that the officers of the Company were not residents of Ontario and the Company having undertaken to prepare and mail a revised statement to all shareholders with a report on this annual meeting and further to comply with the Ontario Securities Act in the future, the Commission decided that it would not take any action to recommend a prosecution for an offence under the provisions of Section 135.

DATED at Toronto, May 9th, 1968.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF THE SECURITIES ACT

AND

IN THE MATTER OF COMPANY "B"

Hearing held May 9th, 1968

Present: The following members of the Ontario
Securities Commission:

H.E. Langford, Q.C., Chairman
Professor J. Willis, Commissioner

J.M. Robinson and R.B. Tuer for the Company

S. Wakim for the Commission

This was a hearing which arose by reason of an allegation that this Company had sent out to its shareholders an untrue statement of material facts in the information circular prior to the Company's annual meeting. If this allegation were correct it would, of course, constitute an offence under the provisions of Section 102 of The Securities Act, 1966.

The officials of the Company with its counsel attended before the Commission and while admitting that the statement in the information circular was in fact inaccurate, it appeared clear that the inaccuracy complained of was not known to any official of the Company at the time this statement was prepared. The official of the Company who prepared the statement did enquire of the source who knew the actual facts before preparing the statement and, therefore, it was clear that the untruth was not only unknown to the Company but could not have been known by the exercise of any reasonable diligence.

In the circumstances, therefore, the Commission decided that it would not proceed with any recommendation for prosecution for an offence under the provisions of Section 102.

DATED at Toronto, May 9th, 1968.
